ATTACK ON CHURCH

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Tharlottesville, Va. July 27 - B Charles Steele Davidson, who, on Fri mammy who lives in the little brick structure at the entrance to Monti-cello, the home of Jefferson, took spec-tacular leave of the Episcopal ministry by burning his vestments and prayer book, now proposes to conduct a series of services in the leading theatre of Charlottesville, beginning probably next Sunday week. He is confident next Sunday week. He is confident that he will be able to secure a first-class choir by applying to the various denominations of the city, including the Salvation Army. An Episcopalian will act as organist. The meetings

WILLIE RITCHIE

Los Angeles, July 27.—Willie Ritchie is there with the "come back" thing. The lightweight champion hands Wolgast an answer well calculated to curt the hair about Adolph's temples. Saturday Wolgast posted $1,000 with Jim Jeffries, the same to go as a forfeit on a $25,000 side bet to Ritchie One-half this amount was to bet that Wolgast would whip the title-holder in a twenty-round battle; the other half to go as a straight wager that Wolgast would knock out, stop of force Ritchie to quit inside the limit. "We call Wolgast's proposition," said Ritchie to-night, "We accept Wolgast's invitation just as it lays. The only stipulation we make is that half the amount $12,500, be posted on the day the articles are signed, the remainder to go up ten days before the contest."

Chancery and Hustings Courts, while veiling their incomes in secrecy, are believed to draw, for purely clerical work, several times the salaries paid to the judges of those courts. The High Constable, who levies warrants, collects claims, and dispossesses people from their houses when they don't pay rent, gets five or six times as much as the Civil Justice who hears and decides the merits of such cases. The clerk of the Supreme Court is said to get more than any two judges on that bench. Members of the Administrative Reard of Richmond each draw more salary than members of the he would not state, merely saying that said to get more than any two judges on that bench. Members of the Administrative Board of Richmond each draw more salary than members of the State Corporation Commission, or than members of the Supreme Court of Appeals of Virginia. The Building Inspector gets more money than the Superintendent of the Gas Works, or of the Electric Works.

How It Works in Henrico. Business concerns that will be affected by the change are the Montague

Manufacturing Company, Woodward & Sons and the Richmond Paper Manufacturing Company, while the plant formerly used by the R. A. Patterson Tobacco Company is also involved in the deal. With the new purchases the yards in Richmond will extend from Canal Strate to the receiver. Another side of the fee system is seen in Henrico County. The perpetual interference of county fee-system magistrates with the work of the city police at the State Fair Grounds has been a prolific source of trouble, the county magistrates and policemen demanding their fees, and running up bills of costs against those arrested in or near the Fair Grounds, this being one of the strongest arguments advanced for annexation. Clerk S. P. Waddill has probably the richest fee office in Henrico, though, like other fee officers, he has been reticent about saying what it nets. He has a salary of $500 in addition to court fees. The office is said to net about $8,000 to $10,000. Treasurer Hechler draws $1,500 from the County, in addition to the allowances made by the State for keep of prisoners, his fees in this respect being on the same basis as those of City Sergeant Satterfield. Before the road law took effect, when former Sheriff Simon Solomon held the office, it was said to be one of the richest fee offices in the Commonwealth. Annexation in 1206 also tended to reduce the fees of both this office and of the Henrico Court clerk.

The following table will show how the State and city value the services.

ROBS A HOSPITAL AND DEFIES THE AUTHORITIES

Richmond Man Overrides Orders of Doctors and Saves Woman From Knife of Surgeon.

After her clothes had been packed and every preparation made to take Mrs. Mattie George, of 1231 West Broad Street, to the hospital, where an opera-tion was to be performed for appendicitis, in the hope of saving her life, P. R. Tripp, of 603 East Main Street, countermanded the orders of the physicians, defied the hospital authorities who had arranged for the operation and in a circle of threatening relatives demanded that the seriously ill woman demanded that the seriously ill woman. demanded that the seriously ill woman take a dose of Tripp's Brown Bitters as a last resort before submitting to the surgeon's knife. The next morning Mrs. George was feeling so much bet-ter that she declined to enter the hospital, and in the afternoon she was sit-ting up. She paid the doctors their fees and dismissed them, and from that fees and dismissed them, and from that time on recovery was rapid.

Physicians, and hospital authorities alike, were dumbfounded, and could hardly believe their eyes, but the evidence was before them, and it is on file in this office, sworn to before a notary public and subscribed by Mrs. George for the inspection of any doubting Thomases who care to see it. Bile in this office, sworn to before a notary public and subscribed by Mrs. George for the inspection of any doubting Thomases who care to see it. Mrs. George suffered for many months with indigestion and stomach trouble, and had gotten in a frightful condition. Her husband had five different physicians to attend her, and four of them said she had appendicitis and must submit to an operation. It was then that Mr. Tripp, the originator of this wonderful remedy, came to the rescue, and though none of the family had any faith in the medicine, she was willing to try it as a last resort.
